AAUW Vancouver held a “Welcome to AAUW” dessert on March 2nd at Kathy Walker’s home. Ten new members were invited to get to know our VP membership, president, some interest group leaders, and one another.

Ruth Harbaugh was on hand to describe our busy and active bridge group. Diane Grubel told guests about our Lunch Posse. Nancy Stepsis brought us up to date on the Nonfiction Book Group and the First Thursday book group. Beverly Olson shared information about our public policy activities, the Mah Jongg group and Meaningful Movies. Kathy Walker described the meetings of the First Wednesday book group and Great Decisions. Guests shared their personal histories and learned a lot about one another.

AAUW Vancouver’s History Committee by Kara Lyn Rankin

The AAUW History Committee consisting of Kara Lynn Rankin, chair, Sue Hennum, Pat Stephens, and Nancy Stepsis with additional input from Marion and Karin Kanthak and our president, Kathy Walker, has met to discuss options concerning our branch archives. We currently have 85-years of history in six, big, plastic tubs, which hold scrapbooks and materials such as directories, pamphlets, and invitations. Generally these get passed to new presidents and have been stored in garages and attics. The committee recognizes their value and the need to protect them.

To this end, the History Committee has met with WSU-V archivist Robert Schimelpfenig, as well as the WSU-V Library Director Karen Diller. WSU-V is interested in accepting our archives, storing them in a temperature-controlled atmosphere and digitizing them when possible. In researching this possibility, we found that several universities house local AAUW archives. For example, WSU-Pullman houses AAUW Pullman’s archives.

The opportunity to protect and share our legacy seems appropriate. On April 8, the branch will have a chance to vote on a resolution to this affect. The resolution will be finalized at our March 28, History Committee’s meeting. Current plans - with the branch’s approval - include the transfer of the archives to WSU-V after the May 13th breakfast at the Hostess House - so mark your calendar! We are invited to take a tour of the WSU-V library as well as see an exhibit on higher education in Clark County. Concerns, questions? Email KaraLynnRankin@gmail.com.

by Beverly Olson,
Public Policy Chair

March 2017

FYI your Public Policy Chair, is on Spring Break. I, probably as many of you, have sat in front of the TV and/or checked news updates on my computer for the past four months. The national campaign, the election, and the new federal government have consumed most of my time. Add to that the progress- or lack of same- by our Washington State Legislature. So...Spring Break here I come! Join me.

FYI we here in Clark County have many destinations that are appropriate for Spring Break visitations. I particularly like the ones I have noted below.

Clark County Historical Museum 1511 Main Street, Vancouver. Open Tues-Sunday, 11-4. Currently featuring two exhibits: 1. Woven History, Native American Baskets, 2. Making Beauty, Native American Bead Work.

Ridgefield National Wildlife Refuge 1511 Main Street, Ridgefield. The Auto Tour is fun and educational and it only costs $3 per vehicle. For additional information visit <https://www.ridgefieldfriends.org/RidgefieldNWRMain.html>. Be sure to get information from website regarding where to start the Auto Tour.

Clark County Parks and Recreation Please visit <https://www.clark.wa.gov> to check out the variety and the locations of our parks and our recreation. Whether it's a family picnic at the park up the street or a swim at Firstenburg Community Center, good times are available. JUST GO.

Vancouver Farmers Market 6th and Esther Street, downtown Vancouver. Every Saturday, you can stroll, eat, enjoy various types of entertainment, and purchase various products and fresh produce. Even if it's raining, the Vancouver Farmers Market is a FUN place to be.

Fort Vancouver National Historical Site. Spend a day roaming the grounds, visit the Welcome Center, visit Pearson Air Museum, visit Fort Vancouver itself, have lunch at the Grant House, or ... So much to see and do. HAVE FUN.

FYI Depending upon what is happening in the world, I may go on Summer Vacation in May.

Make Your Voice Heard on WA State Legislation Concerning Women

Equal Pay Day is Tuesday, April 11. This date symbolizes how far into the year women must work to earn what men earned the previous year.

As you think about what you might want to do to mark that date, consider contacting your Washington State legislators about House Bill 1506, which is in the Senate for consideration. HB 1506 would modify the Equal Pay Act by making it unacceptable for employers to retaliate against female employees for asking about their wages or the salary of other employees. It would allow women to receive the same promotional opportunities as men.

Also on your list of pending WA State legislation about which to contact your elected legislators, should be HB 1234, which has passed the House and is now in the Senate. This bill addresses private health plan coverage of contraceptives, assuring that 1 year's birth control be available to women. This could make a huge difference in the lives of women in rural areas who can only get to a doctor or Planned Parenthood once a year.

Next is HB 1384 (SB 5256) the Sexual Assault Protection Modification bill, which concerns sexual assault protection orders. It provides that sexual assault orders may be permanent rather than having a 2-year maximum. It has passed the WA House and is in the Senate.

And you might want to be heard on SB 5321, the Rape Survivor Protection Act, concerning the parental rights and responsibilities of sexual assault perpetrators and survivors. It terminates the parental rights of rapists. It is currently in the Senate.

Finally, take a look at HB 1129. This bill would allow the development of an associate degree program at state correctional facilities. It has passed the Senate and is on its way to the House Rules Committee. Of course, funding education is a big issue in our state right now so this bill may be problematic regardless of its good intent.

You can send an e-mail message to your legislator(s) by knowing the names of your representatives and using the legislator e-mail services at:

Amelia is a graduate student at WSU-Vancouver. She is pursuing a Masters in Public Affairs. She has a B.A. in Communications from WSU-Pullman.

Before going to graduate school, Amelia spent about 10 years working in journalism in several Eastern Washington towns as well as Moscow, Idaho. She did marketing for a small mall, managing community events designed for college students and families. Before moving to Vancouver, Amelia worked on the Kindle team for Amazon.

Amelia was born in Richland, WA and also lived in Houston and Washington D.C. while growing up. Recently she has lived in Walla Walla, Tonasket, Kirkland, and now Vancouver.

Presently Amelia has an internship at the Vancouver City Manager's office. She recently interviewed our president Kathy Walker about AAUW's role historically in the city. That connection brought Amelia to our branch. Amelia knew of AAUW, since her mother is a member of the Tri-Cities branch, and decided she wanted to get more involved. It appeals to her interest in supporting women and meeting women who share that interest.

Amelia volunteers with Planned Parenthood's in Public Affairs and Legislative Advocacy. She loves the outdoors and likes to hike, read and knit. After graduation, Amelia plans to work in communications, non-profit development or for a governmental environmental agency.

AAUW Vancouver WA - Possible Responses to AAUW National's $10 Increase in Dues for 2018

On February 23rd, AAUW National informed us that their board of directors is considering raising the dues for national AAUW membership by $10 per year. This increase will be voted on by the board of AAUW National at their June 13, 2017, regularly scheduled, board meeting and the increase, if approved, would begin for the membership year starting July 1, 2018. Patricia Fae Ho, chairman of the board, reminded us in an emailed video of the many important women's issues our national association identifies, researches and lobbies for, representing our interests and those of women and girls everywhere. She noted that annual dues are their most stable source of income. They provide the framework for AAUW's mission and programs and a combination of both dues and donations are critically necessary to support AAUW's salary negotiation workshops, research, advocacy efforts, campus leadership programs, and more. Even fully funded programs, such as the Legal Advocacy Fund and fellowships and grants, require the support of an infrastructure to do their work. She asked us to consider how prices have changed since AAUW's last dues increase in 2008 and said it would be very difficult to name even one item that has not increased significantly in price during that time period. That means, she said, that AAUW has been paying more and more to keep their programs running. She said, "AAUW is proposing a modest 20 percent increase — only eighty-three cents a month. Just think of the return that investment makes in the lives of countless women and girls."

Your Vancouver branch board of directors has had a chance to think about the proposed increase and to discuss it by phone, email and at our last board meeting. There is a feeling among board members that the current dues of $75 is already expensive compared with other women's organizations. For instance, the annual dues for the League of Women Voters of Clark County is $55. NOW is $35 for national, state and local dues. AWID (the Association for Women's Right in Development), an international organization working for women's rights, has dues of $65 and $45K per year depending on the member's income. While your board members strongly support of the goals, objectives and history of AAUW National, there is true concern that we may not be able to maintain our current membership and attract new members if the annual dues are raised to $85. Yes, it is only $10 more per year, but many of our members are on fixed incomes and may already struggle to support our scholarship fundraisers and Tech Trek tuition drives. Yes, it would be very difficult to name even one item that has not increased significantly in price since 2008, but those of us on fixed incomes are already dealing with that reality. It may be a burden for many to deal with a dues increase on top of current high expenses. So where do we go from here? Below are several options identified by your Vancouver Branch board—and there may be more that you can identify for us. Please take time to study these choices and let me know, in writing, if you have others to suggest. Assuming that AAUW National votes to increase the dues — at this time next year — we will have to decide how to proceed.

	Dues now: $75 per year. $49 goes to AAUW National, $10 goes to AAUW Washington and our branch keeps $16.
1	Increase dues for membership in AAUW Vancouver to $85 per year. Pay $59 to AAUW National, $10 to AAUW Washington, and retain $16 for our operating expenses and projects.
2	Increase dues for membership in AAUW Vancouver to $80 per year. Pay $59 to AAUW National, $10 to AAUW Washington, and retain $11 for our operating expenses and projects.
3	Leave the dues for membership in AAUW Vancouver at $75 per year and pay $59 to AAUW National, $10 to AAUW Washington, and retain $6 for our operating costs and projects.
4	Disaffiliate from AAUW National. Set the dues for membership in Vancouver University Women's Assn. at $75 per year. Pay nothing to AAUW Washington and send $49 per member to AAUW National as a donation from an unaffiliated women's organization. (We would not qualify to send campers to Tech Trek.)
5	Disaffiliate from AAUW National. Set the dues for membership in Vancouver University Women's Assn. at $75 per year. Pay nothing to AAUW Washington and send an amount to-be-determined per member to AAUW National as a donation from an unaffiliated women's organization. (We would not qualify to send campers to Tech Trek.)
6	Disaffiliate from AAUW National. Set the dues for membership in Vancouver University Women's Assn. at $XX per year. Pay nothing to AAUW Washington, pay nothing to AAUW National, and use our membership funds to support our local scholarships and STEM Recognition. (We would not qualify to send campers to Tech Trek.)

It's a great time to socialize & enjoy a meal.

Portland AAUW invites you to this special free event in observance of Sexual Assault Awareness Month
An Evening with Brenda Tracy
AAUW Oregon 2016 Breaking Barriers Achievement Award winner
 Wednesday, April 5th at 5:30pm
 Portland State University, Smith Memorial Student Union, Room 355

In 1998, Brenda Tracy, a single mother of two young boys, was drugged and sexually assaulted by four football players – two were on the Oregon State Beavers football team coached at the time by Mike Riley. The individuals were arrested but never charged in connection to the case. The evidence of the case was destroyed before the statute of limitations had expired. In turn, no criminal charges were ever filed.

Sixteen years later, Brenda found the courage to come forward and Portland sports columnist John Canzano published a series of articles in The Oregonian, detailing all aspects of Brenda's story. Since then, Brenda has helped pass a number of laws in Oregon, including one that extends the statute of limitations for serious cases of sexual assault and another that provides for the testing and follow-up of sexual assault kits. In addition, she lobbies and works with the NCAA and PAC 12 for institutional change regarding sexual assault policies and practices. She has spoken to many college football teams across the country and in January 2017, was the featured speaker at the National Football Coaches Association Annual Conference (3000 coaches in attendance). Brenda is now a consultant for Oregon State University to work on initiatives to prevent sexual assault and support for victims and continues her advocacy efforts at the state and national level.

This event is free and open to the public. For tickets, visit <http://bit.ly/SAAMPDX2017>.
